What Can John Parker Stewart Do for You?

“At Kennedy Space Center, John Parker Stewart taught us how to manage the complex, high risk space shuttle launch preparation process, and to do so at almost half the cost – saving hundreds of millions of dollars a year. This resulted in the first “100” performance score in KSC’s history.

“John continues to coach me today as I transition from government to industry. If you need a team, John can build it. If you have a team, John can take it to the top.”

Jay F. Honeycutt
Center Director (CEO), Kennedy Space Center NASA
